REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO VISIT CONFEDERATE HOME.

The following committee report was ordered printed in the Journal:

Austin, Texas, September 17, 1926.

Hon. Lee Satterwhite, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

We, your Confederate Home Committee, appointed during the Regular Session of the Thirty-ninth Legislature, beg leave to further report that we have again visited the Confederate Home and find peace and harmony existing, and the inmates loyal, satisfied and contented.

We find that the Superintendent and physician in charge are courteous, gentlemanly and capable, and devote their undivided attention to the welfare of the Home.

We also find that not a single death has occurred in the Home during the past thirty days, excepting one from an accidental death caused by a runaway automobile.

We find that about ninety veterans are inmates of the hospital at the Home, and being well cared for by efficient nurses and attendants; that the food is well prepared, plentiful and properly cooked.

REMARKS BY HON. NORMAN G. KITTRELL.

On motion of Mr. Fields, the following remarks by Hon. Norman G. Kittrell were ordered printed in the Journal:

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House:

The resolution which you have just heard read was introduced at the request of Mr. Walthall, a member of the Board of Control.

As you will have observed, it carries no appropriation and the action proposed to be taken could have been taken without the authority of either the House or Senate, but your approval was asked as a matter of courtesy.

As you know, those old men and women look forward to the annual reunions with the keenest anticipation of pleasure.

It was my privilege to visit the Home yesterday, and I looked upon a scene filled with profound pathos.

The steps of those old men are short and slow. Their frames are bent by the burden of years. They are "broken and seamed with many a scar."

More than three score years ago, they stood through four weary, wearing, bloody years in the long, thin lines of the gray battalions, "feasting glory 'til pity cried no more," and won a fame as fadeless as the shining pathway of the stars. They will have the privilege of attending but few more earthly reunions. Their line is shortening here and lengthening yonder.

In but a few more years they will all meet with their comrades from all over our Southland in the eternal reunion beyond the sunset, and there on the plains of Paradise in shadowy legions with noiseless tread, will, in phantom phalanx, pass before their great commander, Lee, and with all their faculties consciously functioning still, they will acclaim him there, as universal humanity has acclaimed him here, "commander fit to marshal even the very hosts of heaven."

The public importance of the purposes herein contemplated creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read upon three several days in each house, and the said rule is hereby suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Amend House bill No. 73 by striking out caption of bill and insert the following:

"An Act to create Road District No. Thirteen (13), in Collin county, Texas; validating and approving all orders made by the commissioners court of said county, in respect to the organization of said district; validating the authorization, issuance, and sale of certain road bonds thereof, and providing for their payment by the annual levy, assessment and collection of general ad valorem taxes on all taxable property in said district; validating the authorization of certain road bonds thereof and providing for the issuance and sale thereof; authorizing the commissioners court to levy and provide for the assessment and collection of general ad valorem taxes on all taxable property in said road district in payment of principal and interest on said bonds; approving and validating all orders of the commissioners court of said county in respect to said road district, bonds and taxes, or certified copies thereof, and constituting such orders legal evidence; evidencing proof of publication of constitutional notice, and declaring an emergency."

The amendments were adopted.
